

Learn Co-operation With Neighbors, Be Prepared, Is A.R.P.

Democracy A Dream That Might End Unpleasantly, Speaker Warns Well Attended Newmarket Meeting

(By Rudy Renzi, press secretary, Newmarket Civilian Defence committee)

Newmarket Civilian Defence committee held its first public meeting Tuesday evening in the town hall. It was well attended and the interest shown by the ladies was very much appreciated.

The committee has been working hard since early this spring and it is just now that the results are beginning to show.

H. E. Lambert was in the chair and introduced H. L. Trapp, Toronto, North York war finance organizer, who in turn introduced Sgt. Irving Smith, of the Toronto police, who gave a most interesting talk on the fundamentals of A.R.P. work and showed how we all can help helping ourselves in an emergency. He thought the size of the audience was most encouraging and pointed out that as A.R.P. work was voluntary we have to give up some of our spare time to train for this work, but it pays good dividends.

You learn to know and co-operate with your neighbors, and death and sickness are the only good reasons for not attending a meeting. Sgt. Smith explained the workings of Toronto C.D.C. and stressed the point that common sense is the backbone of A.R.P. work. Being prepared is also very important. Such small things as having a bathtub full of water, a couple of pairs of sand in the house, the garden hose and ladders in good working order, are the most important factors during an air-raid. The speaker ended his instructive talk by wishing Newmarket C.D.C. success and hoping the knowledge acquired would never have to be used.

Flight-Lieut. the Rev. Henry Cotton was the second speaker and gave a stirring, patriotic speech. Having been in combat and a war prisoner he was able to tell the story from both sides. He told about the new planes, able to cross the Atlantic with a load of bombs and return home and warned us of the biggest enemy, complacency. He pictured us as a four-horse team, the army, the navy, the air force and last but not least the civilian workers, who all have to co-operate to attain the goal—the defeat of the Axis. Democracy, he said, is a dream, but dreams sometimes end unpleasantly. "Be prepared" is A.R.P. work in two words.

Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales thanked the speakers and spoke in support of our local C.D.C., working so hard for our common good. "I still maintain the burden is falling too much on a few people, who have a sense of responsibility in the matter," said Dr. Dales. "There must be co-operation. I certainly appreciate the work being done by Chairman Harry Lambert and the executive."

It was a most instructive meeting and everybody was invited to the next meeting, Sept. 22, with other outstanding speakers.

Bank Closes Newmarket Branch For War Reasons

MANAGER HAS PLAYED ACTIVE PART IN COMMUNITY IN 20 YEARS

The Imperial Bank advised its depositors and customers on Monday that it would close its Newmarket branch and transfer the business to the Bank of Montreal.

A letter from F. H. Hewson, the manager, said: "Owing to heavy enlistments of bank staff for war services it has become necessary to reduce banking service at various points in Canada, where it can be done without serious inconvenience to the public."

The branch will be closed on Aug. 31. Newmarket will be left with two banks, the Bank of Montreal and the Bank of Toronto. The Ontario savings branch closed a few years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Hewson, Ted and Elizabeth, came to Newmarket from New Liskeard in 1920. A second son, Geale, was born in Newmarket. He is now LAC Geale Hewson at Aylmer service flying school. Ted Hewson is now a quartermaster-sergeant with the Queen's York Rangers. Miss Elizabeth Hewson is a dietitian with a war industry at Ajax.

Mr. Hewson expects to be on the relieving staff, and may still be able to make his home in Newmarket.

Mr. and Mrs. Hewson have taken an important part in the community's life. Mrs. Hewson has been active in the Hospital Aid, the Red Cross and St. Paul's church work.

Mr. Hewson was at one time secretary of the Newmarket board of trade, treasurer and vice-president of the Newmarket Amateur Athletic association, treasurer of the Newmarket Curling club, treasurer of the Newmarket Lawn Bowling club, warden of St. Paul's Anglican church, and at the present time is treasurer of the Newmarket Horticultural Society.

He has taken part in war work, acting as chairman of the auxiliary services drive, treasurer of the Y. M. C. A. drive and assisting with war savings and war loan campaigns.

PLAN CORN ROAST

The first Trinity United Y.P.U. meeting of the fall season will be held Tuesday, Sept. 3, at the farm of John Rutledge, in the form of a corn roast. There will be corn, cake, fellowship and fun.

The executive met at the parsonage on Monday evening and made plans for the first three meetings in September.

Lieut. M. A. Sugden, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lewis, Newmarket, received his commission overseas.

Elphinstone Tells Of Salvation Army Service

The Salvation Army has received a letter (Aug. 1) of appreciation for a parcel from Cpl. A. V. Elphinstone, in part as follows: "I received your very welcome parcel. It arrived in good condition, and the contents were certainly a treat. I wish to thank you, one and all, for your kind thoughts for the boys who are over here. I hope the day is not far distant when I will be able to thank you all personally. "I may say, we have the services of the Salvation Army at our camp, and they look after the boys very well. They put on a couple of picture shows a week, have a canteen, writing-room, recreation room with piano, and a library, and the boys make good use of them."

(This is Cpl. Elphinstone's second war. Before this war he was an orderly at York County hospital.)

CONTINENTAL PAINTS LTD. ENGAGED IN WAR WORK

Continental Paints Ltd., situated at Main and Huron Sts., have been busily engaged in filling government contracts for some time past.

In addition to handling their war orders, they have maintained a wide line of domestic paints and enamels, which are now to be made available to Newmarket people through W. H. Eves & Co., the popular Huron St. building supplies outlet.

UNIQUE RECORD IS Praised AT SOLEMN MASS

ARCHBISHOP COMMENDS WORK OF DR. W. D. MUCKLE OF ST. JOHN'S

MARKS 25 YEARS

Rev. Dr. W. D. Muckle celebrated a solemn high mass of thanksgiving for having been given the grace of 25 years in God's service, at St. John's Roman Catholic church yesterday morning.

Archbishop McGuigan was present and commended Dr. Muckle for his work during the 25 years since his ordination. He mentioned particularly the newly opened chapel at Keswick and the chapel which he helped to open yesterday afternoon at Newmarket military camp. Many Toronto and district clergy were present.

Following the service the parish presented Dr. Muckle with an address and a purse of money. T. F. Doyle read the address which was signed by Arthur G. Peppiatt, himself and (Page 5, Col. 1)

NEW SOCCER TEAM TAKES MANNING POOL

In a story-book finish, No. 23 C. (A.) B.T.C. soccer team defeated the highly "touted" team from the Toronto R.C.A.F. Manning pool by a 3-2 score last Thursday at Newmarket training centre.

The army team made its initial appearance in organized competition, having been organized as a camp team for only a short time by C.S.M. Bowman, M.M. The goalkeepers were Merton, two, and Carson, one, for No. 23. For the R.C.A.F. Pullano and Maitland scored.

Newmarket training centre extends an invitation to any team, organized or otherwise, for a game at this centre, with a return game possible. Anyone interested should correspond with C.S.M. Bowman.

HOME RINK CAPTURES "E. J. DAVIS" TROPHY

One of the largest tournaments ever held at the Newmarket lawn bowling greens took place yesterday afternoon, when 17 rinks competed for the Hon. E. J. Davis trophy.

For the first time since it has been competed for, the trophy was won by a Newmarket rink, with high for three wins. The rink was composed of T. F. Doyle, skip, R. D. Brown, S. R. Jaster and Dr. C. E. VanderVoort. The second prize for three wins went to a rink skipped by Dave Dunstrie of Uxbridge.

High for two wins was Joe Kennedy's rink, Uxbridge, and high for one was Garfield Yerex's rink from Richmond Hill.

The greens were in excellent condition and the afternoon enjoyed by all the bowlers.

Members of the ladies' lawn bowling club served an enjoyable dinner.

A mixed rink tournament is being held on Labor day at the Newmarket greens, and all rinks are requested to send their entries in early.

Mr. J. E. Murphy, C. G. Wainman, Mrs. F. W. Ellis and Mrs. J. E. Nesbitt are taking part in a ladies' Scotch doubles tournament in Toronto today.

The regular meeting of the Red Shield was held in the Salvation Army Citadel on Tuesday, and the afternoon was spent in tagging another shipment of goods for Britain, quilting and knitting.

EDITOR SLIPS A WEEK

Due to misguided enthusiasm, The Era and Express announced the Newmarket Horticultural Society's summer flower show for last Saturday.

The reporter, and quite a few citizens, went to Trinity United church on Saturday, but not a "glad" was to be seen.

President S. W. King, Secretary Norman Williams and members of the society are still sticking to their original determination to hold the show this Saturday, Aug. 29.

It will be well worth having waited for.

BOTH BELIEVED CASUALTIES OF DIEPPE RAID, WORD RECEIVED MONDAY

He is Mr. McDonald's son by a previous marriage, and was born in Newmarket, and attended Alexander Muir school and Newmarket high school. He attended St. Andrew's Presbyterian Y.P.U.

He has a brother, Ronald, in Toronto, two sisters, Mrs. Dudley Carley, Newmarket, and Ina, at home, and two half-sisters, Peggy and Heather, at home.

He enlisted a month after the war broke out. His parents had a letter from him last week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. S. Cane, Toronto, former Newmarket residents, received a cable on Monday that their son, 20-year-old Flight-Sgt. Wm. Cane, was slightly injured. A subsequent cable said that he was dangerously ill.

COLLEGE HAS 200 BOYS IN ACTIVE FORCES

FORMER TEACHERS AND STUDENTS ARE IN EVERY BRANCH OF SERVICE

"The Voyageur," Pickering College annual year book, has again made its appearance.

"Milestones along a road are important, not so much because they inform a traveller how far he has already gone, but because they advise him of the distance to go." Headmaster Joseph McCulley writes of the college centenary.

The book lists 18 former teachers and students in the navy, 70 in the army, 98 in the air force, nine in other services, ten killed, two missing, one prisoner, eight in U.S. forces.

One of many articles pays tribute to a Newmarket man under the title, "The Most Unforgettable Character at Pickering." The writer is anonymous.

"The gentleman whom I will try to describe was one of the finest men that ever set foot in Pickering. He is not at the school any more as he left us two years ago. One might quickly say that he was a member of the academic staff, but he wasn't."

"An ex-student?" you ask. No, I'm sorry, he wasn't. He was a member of the domestic staff for a period covering 34 years. Peter Brown was his name.

"Some of you might remember Peter; if you do, you'll probably agree with me when I say that he was a very fine man."

Mr. Brown grew up with the school, he was here in 1908 when my father was a student and he hadn't changed much from then till the time that I first met him.

"He was still the same quiet, friendly, good Quaker that he always was. He was simple, honest, religious, good-natured and kind. He always had a cheering word for you and when anything was asked of him he always accepted his responsibility cheerfully. Peter Brown stood as an example of the great Quaker doctrine of which we today, in this bitter world, should take particular note."

Sixteen Richmond Hill farm "Commandos" stooked over 30 acres of oats on a Markham township farm Monday evening. Saturday afternoon a group of six stood up 20 acres. Last Friday evening there were 24 from the village on King township farms when about 35 acres were accounted for.

This is the kind of an answer given by Richmond Hill to the call for help on farms in this district. It is Richmond Hill's answer to the appeal for help in the "Save-the-Food" campaign.

Almost 50 Richmond Hill citizens answered the call for farm help for haying and harvesting. They included storekeepers, clerks, professional men, retired gentlemen, and men in all kinds of work and included volunteers from 25 to 75 years.

They coiled hay, pitched hay, mowed, drove mowers and binders, stacked, stooked, threshed, and helped with the milking. They worked on over 20 farms and while difficult to report the exact amount of work accomplished some idea of the commandos' contribution is given by the fact that they stooked over 250 acres of grain.

Some were experienced farmers, some were not. Some were used to manual labor, some were not. But all worked with a fine spirit, gave the best they had, and we'll wager there wasn't a "commando" on the job who couldn't go back and get a job tomorrow at any farm he worked.

One evening last week the "gang" finished on the farm they set out to work on, but as it wasn't quite dark they jumped the fence and to the pleasant surprise of the neighboring farmer stooked a field of goose wheat. And the "commandos" won't forget that field of goose wheat for a long time. Several will take their oath the wheat was eight feet high, and it was down badly and tangled. Pulling those sheaves apart and standing them up in "stooks" to the Richmond Hill commando standard was some job.

Richmond Hill "commandos" found the harvest festivals jolly good fun. The first few evenings were followed by some stiff muscles, but each time it became easier and the town folk welcomed the "conditioning" resultant from a few hours spent in the harvest field. It is a matter of record that some waist-lines have materially reduced.

What Markham Has Done

(Stouffville Tribune)

Led by Village Reeve O. B. Hiesey, 20 of Markham's village business men, including a few of their own regular employees from the Reeve's planning mill, visited the farm of Albert R. Wideman, eighth concession, and stooked 20 acres of spring grain in an hour and a half.

This Good Samaritan act was one of a series in which Reeve Hiesey has been the prime mover, and which have been the means to "save" large acreages of heavy grain during the last few weeks. A day or two ago, taking some of his own paid helpers, he headed another party of 15 to the fields. They stooked ten acres of oats for D. R. Clendenning, ninth concession. The farmers visited have been highly appreciative of the service rendered, and always at no expense to the farmer.

Ask Townsmen To Volunteer To Serve With 'Ground Crew'

Over 50 Give At Least One Evening To Help Farmers, Councillor Spillette Heads Town Organization

Men are desperately needed to serve with the "ground crew" of democracy's armies, Agricultural Representative W. M. Cockburn declared this week. Newmarket district farmers appreciate the help that they are getting now from patriotic town residents, but they need still more help, he said.

Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales responded to the appeal by appointing Councillor J. L. Spillette chairman of a "ground crew" committee, to act on behalf of the town council until its next meeting, in registering those who will give an evening, or two or three evenings, "stooking" grain or helping with threshing, and sending the volunteers out where they are most needed.

"We must do everything we can, not only to help get this year's crop in, but to prevent our farmers from becoming discouraged and reducing acreage for next year," said Dr. Dales.

"Richmond Hill has set an example of what can be done," said Mr. Spillette. "If 15 to 20 men would give one or two nights a week we would soon get the work cleaned up. It is not hard work. It's a lot of fun and a real contribution to the war effort."

"We are thinking primarily of those who have not been doing manual labor all day, although we do appreciate the help we have had in the evenings from men who have already put in a long day at heavy work," Mr. Spillette said.

Mayor Dales said that those willing to help should leave their names and the evening or evenings they can help at Mr. Spillette's store, at the York county agricultural office, or at The Era and Express office.

Farmers who need help should inform the agricultural office. If they do not let their need be known they should not wonder why "ground crew" men have gone to a neighbor's farm and not to theirs.

Nearly 60 Newmarket men, according to records at the agricultural office, have already given a minimum of one evening or afternoon, and many have gone out twice.

At the top of this honor roll and just about in the order of the number of merit stars they have won, or the number of times they have been out, are H. E. Gilroy, W. J. Geer, W. M. Cockburn, J. L. Spillette, George Byers, R. L. Boag, R. C. Morrison, J. H. Gibney and Ed. McElroy.

No doubt there are other names that should be on the roll. Let The Era and Express know before next Thursday of other names and how often you have been out.

THANKS AND COME AGAIN, IS WORD FROM "REP," AS COUNCILLOR JOE SPILLETTE ORGANIZES

To the Citizens of Newmarket: The farmers of Newmarket, Sharon and Queensville districts are very grateful for the "helping hand" citizens of Newmarket who have given such a fine "lift" with the harvesting of this heavy crop.

With many farmers affected by the acute shortage of help, the help of these "farm commandos" even on a limited number of farms, has enabled these men in turn to give a helping hand to their neighbors.

While the stooking has been fairly well taken care of, there are a few large acreages to be put up yet.

The northern end of York county is not so well supplied with threshing machines as the southern townships, where there are more syndicate machines. This means that extra men, whether experienced or not, can help keep the machinery humming.

So what? Townsmen, this is everybody's business. The crop must be saved and farm hands are already working beyond the daylight hours. We all want to eat for the next twelve months, so let's all put a shoulder to the wheel. Surely we can give up a few nights at the pictures, at the bowling green, or on the golf course. Five old faithfuls in the "Three Score and Ten Club" at Stouffville have saved a crop for a country neighbor.

Experience is not necessary. If "it happens here," Herr Hitler will not ask us—we will be told. Call up Chairman Joe Spillette and tell him when you can and will go out. He is just as busy as you are, so help him to carry out this splendid project which has been undertaken by Mayor Dales and his council.

W. M. COCKBURN,
Agricultural Representative.

A SIGN OF THE FUTURE

The closing of one of Newmarket's three chartered banks is more than a temporary war measure. The closing of this bank and the closing of many more banks throughout Canada, while brought about by the war, is part of a streamlining of Canada's banking system. The various banks are co-operating with each other to eliminate unnecessary duplication and it is likely that the process will continue, rather than go into reverse, when the war is over.

Canadians have one of the most stable banking systems in the world, and they deposit their money with the certain knowledge that when they want it again they will be able to get it. Not only is each bank strong, and the law under which it operates cautious, but it is generally agreed that Canadian banks as a whole would stand behind any particular bank which might falter and see that it did not default. This is different from the United States system of many independent banks each standing on its own feet.

Now that Canadian chartered banks work so closely together and stand or fall together, it is only logical that they gradually remove duplication and reduce their costs. The ultimate result may be a single bank. It is not the sort of monopoly that is to be feared, for Canada's banks operate under a dominion banking act and dominion supervision, and the public will share the benefits of any economies which the banks may effect either during or after the war.

The loss of the Imperial Bank to Newmarket will mean, presumably, the loss of Mr. F. H. Hewson, the manager for a good many years. Mr. Hewson has been a good citizen of this town. He acted as secretary of the town's board of trade, when there was a board of trade. He has acted as chairman of one or two of the war fund drives and has helped with others. He is treasurer of the Newmarket Horticultural Society and has been a mainstay of half a dozen other organizations through the years. His genial personality will be missed on Main St.

MR. HEPBURN AS A TEMPERANCE MAN

Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn was quite fair in discussing with a newspaper interviewer the possibility of restricting liquor sales in Ontario. Saskatchewan is giving up the sale of 40-ounce bottles of liquor and will permit a purchaser only 28 ounces in a single day. Saskatchewan is giving up deliveries, but Premier Hepburn said Ontario has no deliveries to give up.

Mr. Hepburn was not quite right when he remarked: "As soon as the people of the province of their own volition decide to stop drinking liquor there will be no distilleries, breweries or wineries." There would still be the export trade, which, judging from Canadian advertising in U.S. magazines, must be substantial. As long as those who manufacture liquor are free to advertise it, there is little chance of people deciding to stop drinking liquor.

So many U.S. magazines and U.S. movies teach drinking that the individual hasn't a fair chance to decide the question on its merits. Sometimes one wonders if the Ontario movie censor's office tries to promote Ontario's liquor revenues. Magazines published in Quebec carry an even higher percentage of liquor advertising, it seems, than U.S. magazines. Premier Hepburn discussed this subject. He is quoted as having said that Ontario "has lost the printing trade because the advertising of liquor is prohibited." He probably meant to say that Ontario has lost some printing to Quebec. Toronto is, we believe, still the biggest printing and publishing centre in Canada.

"The newspapers have also lost a certain amount of advertising because of these restrictions, although I do say it is to their credit that a majority of them wouldn't accept liquor advertising even if it were permitted," said Mr. Hepburn. Our own feeling is that Ontario publishers don't lose anything by not carrying liquor advertising. Quebec newspapers carry it, and yet they don't have any larger volume of advertising than Ontario newspapers. People have only so much money to spend, and a fraction of what they spend is available for advertising. If Ontario people spend a larger proportion of their income than do Quebec people on other things than liquor then Ontario newspapers are likely to get more "other things" advertising. Aside from that, where liquor is used to the extent that it is used in Quebec it inevitably has an impoverishing effect, and newspapers and every other form of business (except the liquor business) will suffer.

Mr. Hepburn says that he has long counselled the people of Ontario to be "more temperate in their drinking habits," but that to make "regulations more restrictive" would be to "drive the business into the hands of the bootlegger." What Mr. Hepburn says seems plausible, except that he hasn't been very strong in his advice to people to be more temperate. Most people have the feeling that Mr. Hepburn, with all his beverage rooms, some of them in neighborhoods that have protested against them, and many of them along highways that as a result have been strewn with smashed cars and broken bodies (Yonge St. has the Hogg's Hollow beverage room and Bradford beverage room), is more interested in increasing provincial liquor revenues than in decreasing them.

However, if Mr. Hepburn would have the Ontario liquor control board enter upon a vigorous educational campaign, through the schools, through billboards, radio, magazines and newspapers to reduce the consumption of liquor, to counsel moderation and temperance, we think that most people would withdraw their objections to the number of outlets and the hours of sale, and accept Premier Hepburn's contention that it is better for the government than the bootlegger to supply the demand. If the Ontario government were to become a counsellor of temperance, willingly giving up some of its huge liquor revenues, liquor might soon cease to be a contentious question and the government (like the newspapers) would probably find the same revenue coming to it in other ways.

Restrictions on the liquor traffic, imposed for wartime reasons, will not make any real contribution to the ultimate solution of the liquor problem. It may be desirable to deprive the industry of its sugar supplies, or of other materials, or of its labor supply, just as it is considered desirable to treat similarly other non-essential industries, or it might be desirable to stop liquor consumption to increase industrial efficiency, but any such war-dictated restriction will not contribute, in the long run, to a solution of the liquor problem. Government-sponsored temperance education is the only solution we can see.

HUT BUILDERS

Destruction of trees on the Pickering College farm and a neighboring farm, belonging to a man absent on active service, again calls attention to Newmarket's need for summer swimming-pool and playground facilities for our children. Youngsters mean no harm but they must have an outlet for their energies.

OUR MISTAKE

It seems that we were wrong some weeks ago when we criticized the government for sending call-up notices to men a long time on active service. It seems that when a person enlists he should notify the government of his change of address, as a civilian must. That is the way it should work, but as a matter of practice it doesn't. The man who enlists tells his wife or mother about it, but he forgets to tell Mr. Thorson. Mr. Ralston is too busy to tell Mr. Thorson, and so Mr. Thorson calls up the khaki-clad and the civilian without discrimination. It would seem to us more scientific if the government would have its right hand tell its left hand what its right hand is doing. Estimates of available manpower would then be more accurate. It might also simplify the civilian selective service job.

An interesting wrinkle about the call-up system we gather from Newmarket boys who have been through the mill. If you get a call-up notice, you can figure on about two weeks before the second notice will come. If you want to get into a branch of the active service forces you hurry to enlist, because once you get your second notice you must remain in a training camp for three months before you can enlist in the service of your choice. If when you get your first notice you rush down to enlist in the air force you may not succeed in getting in before the second notice arrives. You get into the army with less delay. And you have the same problem if you have enlisted in the air force before your first call arrives. If the air force hasn't accepted you when the second notice comes, you are tied up for three months no matter how much the air force may want you.

A FARMER'S DILEMMA

Should farmers, racing against possible bad weather, work on Sundays? Should they make up for lack of help by working on Sundays? Or should they let their grain lie on the ground if they can't get it stacked during the week?

The answer most farmers make seems a sensible one. Time saved on Sunday is lost during the week. If a man works six days and does the chores on Sunday, he is wiser to take a few hours rest in between the chores.

The principle is good in industry too. A man must have one day in seven to rest, if he will do his best work on the six days. It is still possible to observe the injunction to rest one day in seven when an industry operates on a seven-day week. Even though vital machines producing war supplies work seven days a week, the men who operate them, by taking different days of rest, need work only six days. Indeed machines may work 21 "days" a week, three shifts during each of seven days, but the men work only six days. If the Almighty can spare even a small measure of approval to a war for freedom, He will have no difficulty in including a seven-day week for machines.

Is a threshing-machine in the same category? A district farmer had a nice problem recently. The threshing-machine reached his place on Saturday. The weather had been poor during the week, and the thresher was behind schedule. He wanted the farmer to call in his neighbors and do the threshing on Sunday. It would help the thresher, and it would help other farmers who were waiting anxiously to do field threshing. The particular farmer had nothing to gain himself. He was first on the list, whether he worked on Sunday or waited until Monday.

What would you do? This farmer, who had never before threshed or worked in the fields on a Sunday, did a Christian thing. He and his neighbors gave up their day of rest to help the thresher and to help the other farmers who were anxiously waiting for the threshing machine.

"The Sabbath was made for man, not man for the Sabbath."

KNOWLEDGE COMES

Doubt was cast last week in these columns on the ability of 12 men to "shock" 97 acres of grain in ten hours. It must be understood that we talk of town men, not professional farmers. We based our doubt on the experience of five men in two hours doing five and a half acres. Now we must modify our opinion. Another evening found five men in two hours doing eight and a half acres. The crop was oats in each instance. The difference seemed to be that in the first instance the sheaves were scattered evenly over the field as the binder found and tied the grain, but that in the second instance a carrier on the binder had piled the sheaves in neat rows and had cut off "many a weary mile" of walking. No doubt Andy Clarke's 12 men doing 97 acres in ten hours had the same advantage.

Ten acres a day is said to be not out of the way for an experienced and muscular farmer, but it would be a lot of grain for greenhorns to handle.

COOLING EFFECT

One result of the expensive Dieppe raid should be to cool the ardor of the mass meeting organizers calling for a "second front." A second front should be the result of the cool calculation of military leaders, and responsible statesmen, not of the mass emotions of people who will not themselves have to storm a machine-gun curtained beach. How one person can enthrone over sending another into battle is beyond comprehension.

TOTAL WAR

Just as everyone is entitled to a share in the world's leisure (when there is any), so everyone is entitled to share in the world's manual work. Everyone should have a chance to do some physical work, and we feel sympathetic with the city office-worker who returns at night to a house jammed in between two other houses, with a little bit of lawn in front of it and a few square feet of garden behind it. We also feel sympathetic with the city executive who comes home to his fine property to find that the gardener has left him no lawn to mow, no garden to weed and no trees to prune.

A number of Newmarket men, doing a little "stoking" these last couple of weeks, have thoroughly enjoyed doing some physical work and having a share in growing the world's food—food that may be desperately needed during the next 12 months. They are beginning to wonder if they have been missing something. Some of them have said that they feel so much better after a little physical work. Of course they have felt better too because they knew the work needed to be done and because the farmers they have helped have been appreciative and praise-lavish.

It makes us wonder if our Canadian government couldn't find part of the solution to its inflation worries by asking for more voluntary work from the civilian population. It seems to us that there are many people now engaged in the war effort who would work for less or for nothing, and many people, not necessarily in war industries, who couldn't afford to do that, who would give additional hours without remuneration. If Canada would ask them, if their government would ask them, they would help farmers in the evenings or work in war factories without price or sell war bonds and savings certificates or give away every bit of time that they did not need for the bare making of a living. The women who give all their spare time to Red Cross work are no more patriotic than the men of this country, and are no more willing to give their time and services than are the men. Our war effort should not be limited by the amount of money we can borrow.

WHAT OTHERS THINK

NOTHING TO DO WITH THE CASE

(Fort Erie Times Review)

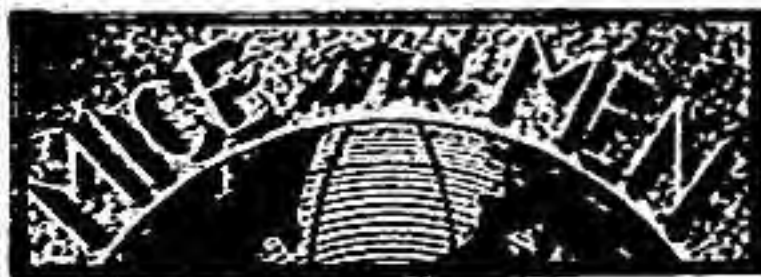

Maybe it was an example of great minds thinking alike, but in their issues of last week a great many of our contemporaries, daily as well as weekly, gave expression to the same deprecation. It took the form of one or another variations of, "Now that tea and coffee are so stringently rationed, why is the consumption of beer and ale unrestricted?"

It is one thing to argue against the manufacture of malt beverages during war-time on the grounds that it diverts labor and materials from the production of more necessary commodities. There is at least a logical basis for such a contention. Again, it can be argued that the working efficiency of those who indulge in beer or ale is not increased thereby. But it is another pair of boots when those who abhor alcohol in any form as a beverage seize on tea and coffee restrictions as a means to promote "temperance" measures.

It should be unnecessary to remind these good folks that ocean freighters are not needed to bring beer into this country from far off India and Ceylon, over thousands of miles of submarine-infested seas; that ale is not imported from Brazil or Colombia and, likewise, makes no demand on coastwise shipping space. Both beverages are made from materials produced domestically.

It is unfortunate for their cause that, in an excess of zeal, so many of those who believe in the abolition of every kind of liquor have a tendency to go so far afield for such tenuous support of their belief. However, most extremists—perhaps because they are extremists—seem prone to overstate their case.

JOY LOGS

By GOLDEN GLOW

I have had a request to repeat what I once wrote about the use of discarded newspapers to make sparkling "joy logs" for the first place. During the summer or early autumn is the time to make them. So get busy making them now, so they will have a better chance to dry, for unless thoroughly dry they are no use. One "log" in our open fireplace will burn almost the entire evening, throwing out rainbow colors. I believe I suggested they would make ideal Christmas gifts. They are made of paper and tied at each end like a huge Christmas cracker.

I have looked up the recipe for the solution in which you soak them. Take every precaution, as the mixture is an internal poison and should be kept away from children and animals. Also it will stain hands or clothing. Another precaution is to be careful not to place too many papers in the log, as they will burn too fast. I told you before that a friend of mine used to just twist them up as tightly as she could and use them that way. Of course, they would not burn so long, nor with the steady glow of the "joy logs."

Here's the solution: Take four pounds of bluestone (called blue vitriol or sulphate of copper) and three pounds of rock salt and dissolve thoroughly in one gallon of water, using the same proportions for as much as is needed. Soak the "logs" for three or four days in this solution, turning end for end frequently. As the solution will corrode metal, the soaking should be done in a wooden vessel with wooden hoops or a stone crock.

Save all your old newspapers and any other colored sections. Roll them up in "logs" about 18 inches long, tie with heavy twine—as I said, not too many at a time and not too tightly, as they swell—and again, be sure you dry them through and through.

If you can get any pine cones you will find them a delight in a fireplace. They give out a beautiful fragrance that always makes you think of Christmas.

CHURCHILL LADIES GIVE PROGRAM AT W. I. MEETING
The Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. Arthur Boyd, Yonge St., on Thursday, Aug. 20. The meeting opened with the Institute Ode and hymns. After the minutes were read and the business attended to, the meeting was turned over to the Churchill ladies who were the guests of the day.

A splendid program was given by the Churchill ladies. The program consisted of community singing, a paper on current events and a paper on "Thirst." A beautiful duet and two solos were given. There was a talk on "Things money cannot buy," and a very humorous reading on "The farmer's wife's job." There was a demonstration on things easily made for a bazaar.

Tickets were sold on a hand-made rug donated by a member of the Newmarket branch and won by a member of the Churchill branch. There were 52 present.

Of People And Things

SYMBOLS

By Isabel Inglis Colville

In our queer English language, which is a source of bewilderment to many foreigners trying to unravel its tangled skein, one of the chief difficulties encountered is the number of words which sound the same, are spelled differently and which have no related meanings.

And so I come to my SYMBOLS which, by the way, I ought to introduce with a clash of CYMBALS, because I am thinking in terms of the heads of governments. A symbol stands for something—is the emblem or type of something moral or intellectual or just the opposite; and I thought, thinking of symbols, how true it was of the leaders of our time.

It always seems to me that a constitutional monarchy, which adheres strictly to its democratic traditions, is the ideal form of government. Take ourselves; the king is the living symbol of empire; to each of us, irrespective of race, creed and above all, of political affiliations, he is a friend. He symbolizes law, power, freedom of speech and worship; in short, he is the hub of the great Commonwealth of Nations—they revolve about him. A monarch is a personality—an office, no matter how well filled, can never command love.

In these times, what does it not mean to have a king we can respect—a personality, lovable, brave and understanding, wise in the ways of diplomacy, fearless in the performance of his duties, a symbol of all that has made Britain great.

Mr. Churchill has the bulldog tenacity, the courage, humor and far-sightedness, without which he could not hope to hold his place in British hearts or British councils.

Mr. Roosevelt, the symbol of another great nation, has these qualities and another—a sort of driving force, which will not be satisfied—it is always reaching forward to new objectives, and strangely enough, he is an idealist. Perhaps I should not say strangely, for all great men have ideals—good or bad—but one feels that whatever his ideals, his efforts to realize them will be colossal, and they ennoble the man's whole personality.

But unlike the king, the symbol of the other great Anglo-Saxon nation, the president is the victim of politics—his people's love can never be really his—admiration, respect, yes; but love, no! He is not permanent, and besides, there is the barrier of politics. His personality has united his nation for a great effort but one feels that directly the war is over, the loyalty of the opposite political party will fly away. But he is a magnificent symbol.

King Haakon of Norway, and Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands, are excellent symbols of the democracies they head—the sturdy independence, the friendliness and the courage of the Norwegians, and the placid coolness in danger and determination of the Dutch.

General Segorski, an ardent admirer of Paderewski, an admirable soldier and a great patriot is admirably fitted to lead Poland. In fact, all the leaders of the free nations, and I've only mentioned a few, are symbols of their peoples—all have courage, determination, a love, amounting to a passion, for freedom, and an unalterable will to win through these dark days to victory.

Hitler, Laval, Mussolini and the Japanese rulers must represent—symbolize, if you will—a large portion of their peoples, especially, I suppose, the military minded, for in all countries, I think, there is a certain proportion of people who let their leaders do ALL the thinking—but in those countries, dictator-ridden, much more than any other, and as these leaders are arrogant, ruthless, cruel and practically pagan, the peoples grow more and more like their symbols.

Christ is the symbol of Christianity and thinking of His love, devotion, courage, steadfastness and disdain of danger to self, we in the Christian countries have a symbol to which our symbols give allegiance. Let us hope we and they grow more like it.

Perhaps if the symbols in the Axis countries were cast down and new and better ones raised up, the people might in time outgrow their savagery and become more human. Let us hope for that day.

MAKES SUGGESTIONS FOR NAVY LEAGUERS

"A new idea in making use of what they have on hand, for the benefit of our sailors, and very ingenious at that, has been worked out by a group of girls up in Owen Sound," Mrs. R. C. Matthews, president, women's committee, Ontario division, Navy League of Canada, writes to president Fred Edwards of the Newmarket branch.

"These girls have sent us in four, beautifully patterned and beautifully stitched, seamen's vests, made out of old felt hats! Made out of good stiff felt, with a double-over across the chest, they will help to keep four sailors warm, in cold wintry weather."

"Incidentally I do hope that other members and supporters of ours will copy the idea of the Weekly Winners group, of Toronto, who last week sent in the 12 oilskin bags, filled with the little things like razors, washcloths, writing papers, socks, towels and so on, that a man needs right away, after he's been rescued from the sea, and outfitted with clothing and so on. We all know how quickly a sailor wants to get washed and shaved after he's been picked up out of the sea."

"This letter from a Trinity College 'old boy,' later killed in action aboard a ship of His Majesty's Royal Canadian Navy, will, I trust, make those to whom we appeal for support in our work, realize what joy they can give by helping us fill ditty bags—30,000 of them this year is our goal—by the way."

"The letter reads in part: 'Well, the big day is over and what a day it was! I was not looking forward to it with any particular enthusiasm but after it once got started, I had an idea that I wouldn't forget it for some time, and now I'm sure I won't. Early in the morning each officer and man was issued with a ditty bag sent on by the Ontario Division of the Navy League of Canada (and collected by it from its members and supporters. I understand). Each bag contained woolens, books, writing pads, candy, nuts, canned goods, cigarettes, tobacco and pipe etc. Needless to say, we were wild about them. I have been busy censoring letters of appreciation ever since!'"

"That letter, and thousands more of them we've received since we started sending ditty bags two years ago," writes Mrs. Matthews, "makes all the trouble we've taken and the effort we make, seem very much worthwhile!"

If you need something, first try to buy a used one.

FORMER NEWMARKET RESIDENT DIES AT 64

Many old-time residents and friends throughout the community will learn with deep regret of the passing of Mrs. Alice Maud May Ralph, 232 Ontario St., St. Catharines.

Widow of Frank Ralph, she died early last Thursday morning at St. Catharines General hospital following a short illness.

She came from London, England, to Newmarket 37 years ago. She resided here for 18 years and then moved to St. Catharines.

She was born in London 64 years ago. In religion she was Anglican.

She leaves to mourn her passing three daughters, Mrs. A. Anderson (Nellie), Georgetown, Mrs. Wm. Altott (Katie), St. Catharines, Mrs. Wm. Hallett (Gladys), St. Catharines; and four sons, Sidney and David, at present serving with the Canadian army overseas, Robert of Fonthill, John at home, two sisters and two brothers in England, and 15 grandchildren.

It's a great life if you know when to weaken.

All things come to him who crosses the street looking both ways.

Early to bed and early to rise, and people wonder where you get your fun in life.

Life is just a succession of things to be enjoyed, endured or licked.

POLICE COURT COURT HAS LIGHT DOCKET TO HANDLE

The York county police court session held in Newmarket on Friday was the shortest in the history of the court, lasting about 15 minutes.

Magistrate W. N. Robinson had but two cases to deal with and remanded both to a later date, when Crown Attorney N. L. Mathews, K.C., will have returned from his holidays.

His worship, at the request of the defendant, granted J. J. O'Connor, Newmarket, a remand of one week. Mr. O'Connor is charged with illegal possession of liquor and keeping liquor for sale without a license.

The case of Simpson Fountain, Peterborough, charged with "having in his possession a still for the manufacture of spirits," contrary to the Excise Act, was adjourned until Sept. 1.

Mr. Fountain is on his own property bail of $500.

POLICE COURT MOTORIST FINED $15 AND $25 AND COSTS

Sixty-four cases received the attention of Magistrate W. N. Robinson in York county police court on Tuesday. All but four of these cases were charges of speeding, most of which had been adjourned from previous weeks.

His worship adjourned 29 cases, some at the request of the defendants themselves. Others were adjourned for personal service of the defendants. Twelve charges were withdrawn and three dismissed.

All those fined were Toronto residents who had exceeded the speed limit.

Magistrate Robinson fined John Balanger $15 and costs or ten days for travelling at 50 miles an hour in East Gwillimbury township on July 4. Constable Joseph Jardine told his worship that he clocked the defendant on July 4. He stated that on July 8 he followed Mr. Balanger for a distance of four miles.

"His speed ranged all the way from 40 to 60 miles an hour," testified the officer. "At times he was going slightly over 60. Most of the way he was over 50."

Magistrate Robinson fined Mr. Balanger $25 and costs for the second offence.

Eleven other Toronto motorists were fined $15 and costs. They were: Forbes Robertson, who was fined by County Constable Aubrey Fleury in Whitchurch township; William E. Rowe, Arthur E. Adam and Fred Waddington, who were fined by County Constable Ronald Watt in East Gwillimbury township; Abraham Shaker and Henry M. Burke, who were fined by Constable George Foster in Georgina township; Kenneth B. MacLaren, Harry Bazos and Daniel L. Oates, who were clocked by Constable McCallum in North Gwillimbury township; and M. Wright and Barney Wolfe, who were fined by County Constable William Hill in North Gwillimbury township.

His worship fined William Moody $12 including costs for exceeding the speed limit in North Gwillimbury. Constable McCallum clocked Mr. Moody.

Two Toronto motorists who exceeded the speed limit in Newmarket were each fined $8 including costs. They were Gordon Jones and Esther Cherry. The former was timed by Constable Kenneth Mount and the latter by Chief Constable James Sloss.

A charge of obstructing traffic against Vernon's Ginger Ale Co. was adjourned. The charge was laid by Constable Mount.

The case of John Wright, Toronto, who is charged with not having an operator's license and with careless driving, was adjourned. So was the case of James Bell, charged with careless driving.

MOVIES PARADE

Playing Monday and Tuesday next week, the Strand theatre presents a particularly strong double bill "My Gal Sal" and "The Man Who Returned To Life."

Inspiration is provided in "My Gal Sal" by beautiful Rita Hayworth in this technicolor extravaganza. Co-starring with Victor Mature, John Sutton and Carole Landis, the titan-haired Rita purveys song, dance and beauty which make screen entertainment with a smash.

"My Gal Sal" tells the story of Paul Dreiser, who was a famous composer and the brother of the great novelist, Theodore Dreiser. He concocted hundreds of tunes which still set feet tapping, among which are "My Gal Sal," "On the Banks of the Vabash," "Mr. Volunteer," and they're all featured surrounded by a series of lavish production numbers to delight the eyes of the fans.

The great supporting cast includes Jimmy Gleason, Phil Silvers, Walter Catlett, Mona Maris and Frank Orth.

"The Man Who Returned To Life," Columbia's strange and powerfully exciting drama of a man who came back from the grave, after having been declared legally dead, will be shown on Monday at the Strand theatre. Hailed as one of the season's top thrillers, the new film features John Howard in the leading role.

Playing Wednesday and Thursday next week, the Strand presents the best all-out laugh hit of the season, "The Male Animal," starring Henry Fonda and Olivia De Havilland. It is "just what the doctor ordered." First and most important of all, it is a laugh from start to finish. Secondly, it has a story that will not only keep you laughing, but will hold your interest throughout. And thirdly, it has one of the finest casts of any of this year's comedies.

Henry Fonda, who never fails to give a fine performance, plays the leading role opposite charming Olivia De Havilland and lovely Joan Leslie. He makes his role of an easy-going but keenly aware English professor stand out as a great realistic performance.

You sympathize completely with his troubles and are overjoyed with his unique (and uproarious) methods of overcoming them. Olivia is grand in the part of his wife, who understands the professor's whims but has her own ideas about having fun. And Joan Leslie is perfectly cast as Fonda's sister-in-law, a girl who can't make up her mind whether she's in love with the current football hero of Midwestern University or the fiery editor of the college magazine.

What's more she nearly drives Fonda crazy in pleading with him to help her decide.

The supporting cast, all of whom give excellent performances, is made up of Eugene Pallette, Herbert Anderson, Hattie McDaniel and several players from the popular stage version.

UNCLE PERFORMS WEDDING SERVICE

On the lawn of her parents' home, amid a setting of ferns and summer flowers, Muriel Evelline Sedore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Sedore, Newmarket, last Wednesday became the bride of Donald Hammond Stephens, youngest son of Mrs. Fred Stephens, Second St. south, and the late Mr. Stephens.

The ceremony took place beneath an arch of cedar, with huge baskets of gladioli in the centre and on either side, and was performed by Rev. Roy Sedore, Kingston, uncle of the bride, assisted by Rev. Gerald Sedore, cousin of the bride.

The wedding music was played by Mrs. Neil Snyder, a cousin of the bride. During the signing of the register, Mrs. Leonard Little, sister of the groom, sang "I love you truly," accompanied on the piano by Miss Della Stephens, cousin of the groom.

The bride, given away by her father, wore a Le Riche gown of heaven blue, with hat and accessories of a darker shade of blue, and carried a shower bouquet of sweet peas. She was supported by her sister, Norma, gowned in a Le Riche dress of a bluish rose color, with blue hat and accessories and a corsage of sweet peas. Fred Stephens, brother of the groom, was best man.

After the ceremony a reception was held on the lawn, refreshments being served by five cousins. The bride's bouquet was caught by the bridesmaid, her sister, Norma, amid a shower of confetti as the bridal couple left for their wedding trip.

The bride travelled in a gown of navy blue alpaca with hat and accessories to match. Mr. and Mrs. Stephens will live on the homestead farm a short distance south of Newmarket. The groom's gift to the bride was a dinner-set.

85% OF ALL IMPRESSIONS THAT REACH YOUR BRAIN

... come through your eyes. That your vision should be perfect is the most important single fact in your life. If you work or play out of doors you probably need the scientific glare protection offered by Tone-Ray lenses—the newest triumph of optical science.

Because of their scientific nature, these cool, green-tinted Tone-Ray lenses kill glare—filtering out both the irritating ultra-violet rays and the searing Infra-red (heat) rays. Yet they do not change the color values of different objects. These are the lenses preferred by the men of the R.C.A.F.

Tone-Ray lenses may be optically ground to your own prescription or are obtainable in popular sun-goggle styles.

How long is it since your eyes were examined? Ask about Tone-Ray lenses when you do.

You Must See These Shows, Perhaps You'll Be Guest of Strand As Reward For Perspicacity

The five winners of last week's difficult classified ad contest, as drawn from the 24 who sent in correct answers, are as follows: Marion Rose, 36 Timothy St., Newmarket, Mrs. S. Freshwater, R. R. 3, Newmarket, Mrs. G. F. McCannan, Newmarket, Miss Ada McKinnon, Newmarket, and Mrs. A. V. Elphinstone, Newmarket. The winners were drawn by Miss Fieda Smith at Brunton's store.

These five people win double passes to the Strand theatre for either next Tuesday evening to see "My Gal Sal" starring Rita Hayworth, Victor Mature and Carole Landis, and "Man Who Returned to Life" starring John Howard and Lucille Fairbanks, or for next Thursday evening, to see "The Male Animal," starring Henry Fonda and Olivia De Havilland, and "Among the Living," starring Albert Dekker, Susan Hayward and Frances Farmer. Passes may be picked up any evening at the theatre.

Correct answers to last week's contest were: basement, library, kitchenette, canaries, refrigerator, location, furnace, highway, contract and bargain. It was a distinct surprise that so many persons were able to get through the barbed-wire entanglements.

BOAT CAPSIZES
BUT SAILOR ESCAPES

Twenty-year-old Tom Beckett, a Torontonian and summer resident of Lake Wilcox, had a thrill on Saturday at 12-foot sailboat capsized in the heavy windstorm. He managed to hang to the craft until Percy Ash came to the rescue with a boat, and except for a ducking and being numbed by the cold was none the worse for his experience.

KING FARMER SPENT
LIFE ON SAME HOMESTEAD

A King township farmer, Oliver H. Sturdy died at his home on the fifth concession on Saturday. He died on the homestead where he was born and spent his entire life. He was 78 years old.

A Conservative in politics, Mr. Sturdy belonged to the Anglican church. His wife died 15 years ago. He is survived by a son, L. C. Sturdy of Toronto, two daughters, Mrs. Annie Busby and Mrs. C. Crossley, both of King, and a sister, Mrs. Chas. A. Chadwick of Toronto.

UNIQUE RECORD

Bernard McHale, Mr. Peppiatt presented the address and the purse.

Deacon for the mass was Dr. Chas. Muckle, Rochester, N. Y., and sub-deacon, Rev. Joseph Muckle, C. S. B., of the Mediaeval Institute of Toronto, brothers of the celebrant.

Rev. Dr. J. E. Ronan, Toronto, and Dr. St. Michael's cathedral school of music boys' choir provided beautiful music.

Stating that Dr. Muckle was one of four brothers in the priesthood, and that a sister was Sister Mary Charles, Very Rev. E. J. McCorkell, C. S. B., Toronto, superior-general of the Basilian Fathers, said that this was a unique record.

"The priest is in a relationship to Christ so close as to merit the title friend of Christ," said the speaker, "a relationship so close as to merit the title ambassador of Christ, speaking with the voice of Christ and with the divine authority of Christ when he forgives sin."

"Christ startled the world when he said, 'Thy sins are forgiven thee.' One who denies that sin can be forgiven is driven inevitably to deny that there is such a thing as sin. What a load was driven from the heart of the world when Christ said, 'Thy sins are forgiven thee.' Christ gave that power to the apostles and their successors."

"It is the faith of Jesus Christ that has built up the democracy that we are fighting to preserve. It is the faith that is threatened by forces without. It is the faith that alone will save the world."

"It makes little difference how able an administrator the priest is. It is the quality of his faith that counts."

"We honor Dr. Muckle today as one who has been faithful in his life and his preaching. For 25 years he has labored fruitfully. We thank God with him today for his vocation and we share with him the hope for an eternal recompense when the Master returns to make the reckoning."

MILK PRICE INCREASE
ENCOURAGES FARMERS

Newmarket and Aurora district dairy farmers are encouraged by the announced milk price increases, effective Sept. 1. W. M. Cockburn, York county agricultural representative stated this week.

The increase will amount to 35 cents per 100 lbs. of fluid milk, 25 cents of it a government bonus and ten cents paid by the dairies.

The increase brings the price up to $2.75 per 100 lbs.

This will not affect retail milk prices in this district. It is understood.

TAKE TIME TO DEAL WITH BLIGHT, URGED

Dusting or thorough spraying with Bordeaux mixture should be done immediately by potato growers, W. M. Cockburn, York county agricultural representative, said this week.

"Potatoes are showing late blight and 'hopper burn,' insect damage, due to insufficient spraying with Bordeaux mixture, he said. Farmers should take time from their harvesting to look after their potatoes."

An interesting program is being arranged for the fall and winter months and included will be a weekend bivouac in the Glenville district. There will be room for those who desire to join the company when they next soon.

A picked platoon of the local company will appear at Schomberg fair in September to put on a display of the latest methods used by Canada's armed forces.

Executive Names C.C.F.
Constituency Officers

Forty years of age, Mr. Root has been active in farm organizations and is widely known throughout the riding for his progressive and practical approach to farm problems. During the past year he has been organizer of farm radio forums in the southern portion of the riding and the Etobicoke area.

Born on a farm in Wellington county, Mr. Root works on a farm and is a member of the town council, and chairman of the industrial committee. He is also scoutmaster of the Aurora Boy Scouts.

Gunton, are planning a canoe trip early next month in the Parry Sound district and meanwhile are busy making their own kayaks, with wooden frames and canvas, for the trip. The canvas is waterproofed and the craft are both light and fast.

SNOWBALL LADY WINS
HORTICULTURE TROPHY

With classes well filled, a good crowd in attendance and every exhibitor winning at least one first prize, the annual fall show of the Aurora Horticultural Society passed off in a blaze of floral glory.

Mrs. Wm. Davidson of Snowball, a big winner all year, scored sufficient points to garner the trophy for the most points scored by a member at the three shows. Miss Helen Baycroft presented her with the trophy.

In the evening Percy Bone, well-known horticulturist, gave a lecture on flower gardening for C. George McCullagh, let his nimble fingers have full play before the audience in a masterful practical demonstration. "Your show is a credit to the town and is one of the best I have seen," said Mr. Bone.

I am glad to see things go along as usual in spite of the war. We must not let beauty and flowers from our lives."

Charles Dodson of Aurora, who judged the show, came in for some warm praise from Mr. Bone. The flowers brought by Mr. Bone were given by raffle to the crowd and the following received hand-drawn bouquets. Mrs. H. Welsh, Wm. Davidson, Rod. Smith, Mrs. Cameron Rose, Miss Jean Lewis, Mrs. H. Baycroft, Herbert Sianan, T. A. M. Hulce, Beverley Smith, Mrs. J. Klees and Mrs. N. Eade.

Mrs. Chas. Harman of Newmarket returning to the scene of many former triumphs, swept the gladioli classes, with stiff competition from Mrs. W. Grice, Mrs. Davidson, Mrs. C. Peterson and Robert Bull. She scored eight firsts as well as seconds.

Disappointing to the directors was the fact that no school children could find time to enter the special flower arranging classes created for them.

Mrs. Peterson won the award for the best living-room basket and Mrs. J. Klees arranged the best dining-room centrepiece.

Close Vacation School
With Concert, Display

The daily vacation school, sponsored by Trinity Anglican church, came to a close with a concert and exhibition of handicraft last Friday afternoon, with every child who attended taking part.

Rev. R. K. Pender thanked the staff of 15, who faithfully looked after the 85 students. L. C. Lee spoke on behalf of the parish and congratulated those in charge on the success of the undertaking.

The younger children had a folk band, musical numbers, rhyms and dances and choruses. The boys, under the direction of Miss D. Hofland, gave a humorous sketch. Mrs. Wilfred Adams directed the girls' drama group, while Mrs. Wm. MacGill had charge of the Biblical dramatization. Scrapbooks, knitting, birdhouses and other items made by the children were on display. Many parents and friends attended.

W. P. Mulock's Rubber
Hunters Get Busy

Little rubber as yet has been turned in at Aurora post office in the rubber drive sponsored by the post office department. However, little is to be expected from Aurora in view of the systematic salvage collection.

Clarence Black of Kettleby has collected over 100 pounds of scrap rubber this week and expects larger amounts next week as the farmers on his route become more cognizant of the scrap rubber drive.

A Tool, rural postman on the Aurora routes, has been able to obtain about 50 or 60 pounds so far this week. Vanluff and Oakridge post offices satisfactory amounts have been turned in. Large amounts have been looked for.

In the eastern end of Whitechurch township, where few systematic attempts at salvage collection have been made to date, larger amounts have been secured by the rural mailman.

"While the amounts as yet have not been large, the most pleasing thing is that so many farmers are taking part in the campaign," one "postie" said.

PRESENTS BOAT

The 1st Aurora Boy Scouts received a fine gift this week from H. M. Davidson of Sunnyvale Cottage, Musselman's Lake. Mr. Davidson, a Torontonian, has donated a rowboat and onrs to the Scouts, who are now busy renovating it. On Sunday Scoutmaster Dr. G. A. C. Gunton and some of the troop will start off on a boat trip through the Kawartha Lakes and Muskoka.

RECTOR WRITES

Fit-Lieut. G. O. Lightbourn, now in England with the R.C.A.F. and former rector of Trinity Anglican church, had an article, detailing the work of the R.C.A.F. chaplains, in the July 8 issue of "Wings Abroad," an air force publication supplied to the boys overseas.

TEACHERS HEAR CALL TO HELP WITH GRAIN

Joining the ranks of the farm commandos is Wilfred Adams, history master at Aurora high school. Mr. Adams is doing his bit daily on a farm near Queensville and has taken on a fine coat of tan as well as acquiring a few blisters.

Iltyd Harris, director of music in the Aurora schools, while on holiday at Parry Sound, also heard the call of the land and devoted a good part of his vacation to aiding the northern farmers.

DEPUTY-REEVE IS ILL

Deputy-Reeve George Leary of Whitechurch township is confined to a Toronto hospital with illness.

COMMANDS TANK CREW

Sgt. Henry Starkey, serving with the Governor-General's Horse Guards, is an Aurora lad who has been overseas since October, 1941. At present he is a tank crew commander.

Five Of Family Wear Khaki
Mother Keeps Fires Burning

Cpl. and Mrs. Jack Saccery, Yonge St. south, are justly proud of their family record in the present conflict. Cpl. Saccery is on duty with the ordnance corps at Camp Borden and his three oldest sons are overseas. With the two years old Ed. Gordon Saccery, aged 23, and Gnr. Jack Saccery, aged 21. Both boys will soon have celebrated two birthdays in England.

Pte. Raymond Saccery, aged 20, arrived overseas last week. Ray had been transferred to the tank corps and, then was recalled by his unit. The trio hope to meet together soon.

Not to be outdone by the other members of the family, 17-year-old Harold Saccery, at home, is preparing himself for future service by training

DOWN THE CENTRE

Tommy Kitchener of Woodbridge, who played goal for Kleinberg two years ago when they surprised everybody by ousting the King-Schomberg team, was slightly wounded last week at Dieppe. Young Kitchener, who is still in his teens and answers to the moniker of "Sonny," joined the Royal Regiment and went overseas as a replacement last spring. So he has been action fast. He was a promising goalkeeper and if the army hadn't interfered would perhaps have been seen in goal for Aurora juniors.

Jimmy O'Hearn, who played on the wing last winter for Midland, as he had done for quite a few years, and who will be remembered for his sniping, especially by Sutton fans, is in the movies now. Jimmy joined the Soo-Suds unit and was transferred to the Pacific coast, where he took commando training. Now he has been selected with a few others from his unit for action in the new thriller being filmed out there called "The Commandos Came at Dawn." Frank Michanuk, the former Aurora softball and hockey star, popped back into the sports picture briefly last week as a member of No. 63 squadron's unbeaten softball team in the Toronto R.C.A.F. league. Frankie, whom we picked as all-star calibre at third base in the York-Simcoe league a few years ago, is again stationed at the red light corner. The Ukrainian boy, who regards Aurora as his home town after three years here, is taking up ground crew work.

Illness has struck at a couple of district athletes now on active service and both are confined to hospital. Jimmy Crean, the centre-fielder for Richmond Hill Roses in softball, who had that peculiar whiplash, is confined to Toronto military hospital. Jimmy has been in the army about a month and collapsed while on parade. He was found to be suffering from pneumonia. He's on the road to recovery now.

Harvey Gibney, the Newmarket softball and Sutton hockey star, has three fingers broken on his left hand and is in hospital at Hamilton. He sustained them in training with the first battalion of the Queen's Yorks. He is able to be up and around but at last writing had found it a bit hard to get the correct sized pants in hospital blue, which the boys wear when they go out from hospital.

Ferris Cantelon, the Schomberg schoolmaster and district sports leader, has changed his mind about moving away and will be back at Schomberg again this fall and for some time to come too. Understand this board raised the ante nicely for him to which made everybody happy.

Lloyd Houghton of Bradford, who was signed with Aurora junior hockey last year and played in several exhibition games, showing considerable promise, has joined the R.C.A.F. Aurora counted on him as a regular for this winter. Within a few hours of enlisting he was whisked off to Brandon.

Speaking of Brandon recalls the fact that Neils Anderson, the classy outfielder of the Collis Leather softballers this season, is stationed there too and is anxious to hear from all the lads. Chatham camp has finally lost a softball game, which should bring a few smiles at Newmarket camp, where the boys have been taking a bit of a ribbing about the Chatham series. Lieut. Jack Dent's boys won 14 straight, however, and then it took an all force team from Fingal to beat them. Fred Sargeant, the slowballer, was ineffective against the fliers and they banged out three runs off him. Slingshot was late. The final score was 3-1, with both teams getting the same number of hits. There will be revenge aplenty, however, according to the Chatham boys.

Richmond Hill lawn bowlers annexed the W. L. M. King trophy for district bowling honors last week by downing Stouffville with a nine-point margin. Dunc. Chamney, Norm. Chatterly, E. T. Stephens, Gid. Moodie, Bert. Smith, Herb. Thomson, Albert Glass and George Fuller made up the winning rinks. It was a repeat triumph for the Hill bowlers, who are having an exceptionally fine year again.

Mason Acton, who managed Uxbridge hardballers and played, too, last time they had an entry in the district baseball circuit, is now on active service and sporting two hooks in air force blue. Acton, a capable mechanic, is engaged on his own type of work, a thing the air force looks after better than any other branch of the services. He is a fine sportsman and, while not a finished player, was able to keep the Ontario county boys moving when he looked after them. Queen's York active, reading about the success of their reserve battalion at track and field and determined to do as well if not better, entered the active service track meet at Niagara on Wednesday of last week and in competition with the Lorne Scots, Dragoons, and others walked off with the bunting. They also tied with the Dragoons in softball honors. The Dragoons won softball honors. Forbes, a tall gangling Negro lad, took three firsts, including the century dash, and was the star of the meet. Grice, Hearne, J. A. Smith and Wray were other big point winners for the county battalion. We don't recognize the names or the lads, but whoever they are or wherever they come from, they're pips.

Brigadier-General McCuaig, commandant of the Hamilton-Niagara district, presented the winners with their prizes in the Sally Ann canteen. As you can guess, it was the same Salvation Army that provided the prizes. After two visits to reserve army camps, we can say truthfully the Salvation Army were tops in providing free service, equipment, prizes and a dry canteen. All our active service correspondents say the same too and the old sweat from last time out back it up even more.

Lorne West, the big Bradford lad who became a traffic cop and has been stationed at Port Credit, has joined the active service force. Paul played lacrosse for both Bradford and Aurora and was fairly good on the ice too. We say "Paul" because that's what he was mostly called. It's his father's name. A big strapping fellow, West was a pestiferous checker but, despite his size, scrupulously clean in his play.

Bruno Cavallo is another former Bradford lacrosse star in the ranks. He is with the army service corps. Bruno played for Bradford in the old tri-county circuit and then went to Orillia, where he played on a dominion junior championship team and also at times appeared in the nets for the senior Terriers. Satchy Bruno has been working at Sudbury. Of Italian parentage, the Cavallo lad was as game as they make them and we have seen him knocked out more than once in lacrosse and then come back for more. He had great speed about.

Don Wilson, now at Orillia, might just as well be mentioned at this stage, for a little bit of his he's about to go on duty with the R.C.A.F. Don, who is a three-star performer at hockey, lacrosse and softball, has been playing softball for the summer months with Hinds, who led the league all season only to be eliminated by Orillia camp softballers, who have a big margin to spare. Wilson will probably return to the States for hockey if he isn't passed O.K. for service.

Lieut. Al. Ross, formerly of Newmarket, now at Orillia, would probably like nothing better than to end his boys in against Lieut. Matheson's prizes.

Art Consaul, overseas with the Essex Regiment, has been promoted to lance-corporal. The former Barrie Colt neolinder is thought to have been with his unit at Dieppe but to date we haven't seen his name in the casualty list and we hope we don't ever. Chatham is a likeable little fellow.

Carl Brown, the Newmarket camp ace, is doing some of the mightiest fine toasting in the Wanless league play-offs and his Blacks team, if they get past their present opponents, might go a long way towards a T.A.S.A. title.

Tim Saul, ace second baseman of the York-Simcoe loop, is on active service now and posted in Toronto. The blonde Richmond Hill boy wasn't long following his team-mate, Jim Crean, to the colors.

Steve Young, veteran Hill softball, has received his army call and is going active in the next few weeks too. Other former Hill players on active service include Bill Buchanan, Jimmy Cochrane, Johnny McMillan, George Slings, Ron. O'Dell, Norm. Mahley, Jack Brock, bank, and there are probably others too. Take that gang and put them down on the softball diamond and they will hold their own with the best of them.

Pastor J. F. Ford of Hespeler reached the headlines the other day with a regular "nib bites dog" bit of news. Rev. Ford, speaking at Guelph to the Rotary club, believe it or not, asked a break for Sunday sports. We quote from his speech. "Sunday is a day of rest. It is not a day to be spent in bed. The ideal is first to all to give God public praise and, secondly, to enjoy lawful recreation. If we could practise the virtue of tolerance it would tend to unite us all under one flag and one throne. There are thousands of men and women on active service who have little to do on Sundays and who would be far better off as spectators or participants in some Sunday sports than many other things they might be doing like running down back alleys shooting dice and so forth." We haven't the entire speech before us but we will have by next week. Mr. Ford must be admired for his boldness in speaking out even if many of you don't agree with his ideas. Golf still goes on as usual on Sunday, and nobody says a word about it.

"Rusty" White has been nominated by the Owen Sound lacrosse club for the Jimmy Murphy memorial trophy. The late Jimmy Murphy, one of the greats of the game, would be well pleased to approve of White getting it and he stands a fair chance, too. The qualifications are: first, the most valuable player to his team, secondly, a clean player, and thirdly, a player contributing the most in any season to Canada's national game. It would be a fine tribute to 11 or 12 years of star lacrosse played by the Richmond Hill boy. His strongest opponent will likely be Billy Wilson, who this year playing coach of the St. Catharines club.

Herbie Mortimer, who has played plenty of hockey in senior in Toronto and was in the junior Dukes' nets when they eliminated the first Aurora junior team coached by Charlie Rowntree, is at Camp Borden with the ordnance corps and is likely to be shifted to Kingston before the hockey season opens.

"Dinky" Hodgins, former Stouffville hardballer, who is single and runs a grocery in that centre, has received his army call and been given until November to get rid of his business. The same thing applies to John "Red" Matheson at Aurora. Both boys are ready to do their part but will probably take quite a financial beating before going on duty. They have both worked hard and built up nice businesses. Now several years of hard work will go for naught. War, we realize, can be no respecter of persons but they are giving up a bit more than some of the other lads being called up at the same time, and come peace-time will be lucky to get back on the same footing. The vagaries of the call system are a mystery that perplexes most, as some calls expected don't seem to materialize or at least if they do life seems to go on as usual. We can recall only a little of the last war but they say the same thing went on then. Guess it wouldn't be a democracy if everything ran as expected.

Reg Perkin of Unionville, who at interscholastic field meets for some years was the big point winner for Markham high school, has been on active service with the army for over a year.

George Sisman of Aurora at 51 is still able to win prizes on the lawn bowling green. He has been one of the mainstays of the Aurora club for years and is just about the oldest bowler of the district. George Pattenden, former Aurora softballer has turned his hand to bowling this year and is doing pretty well from all accounts. You will not find a wide variety of ages in any sport like lawn bowling.

Fifteen years ago, Richmond Hill and Newmarket had junior hardball teams and the Richmond Hill boys were eliminated from the O.A.B.A. playdowns by an Oshawa team that went on to take the title. The Richmond Hill line-up was as follows: Al. White 2b, H. Horton 1f, Art. Crean cf, Jack Hart 3b, Les. Grant ss, C. Graham rf, D. Campbell lb, Russ. Lynett c, and Herb. Sharpless, p. Lynett is clerk of Richmond Hill village now, while Al. White is located at Newmarket. The rest, with the exception of Art. Crean, are scattered out of the district now.

Cottie Tribble, former Barrie baseball and lacrosse artist, who played a few games in the Newmarket town league last year, is now stationed at Niagara camp, where he is a sergeant-instructor.

Speckled Trout for those of you who are interested and know the spots may still be hauled in up to Sept. 15, the department of game and fisheries has just announced. Usually the season goes only to Aug. 31. We have no doubt the extra two weeks grace will be welcomed by the nimrods.

Congrats to our old pal, Johnny O'Halloran, the former Newmarket athlete and former Newmarket who has started the climb up the ladder in the army by securing one hook. Always a bound for speed Johnny is now a dispatch rider.

An American golfer stopped off at a Newmarket pay-as-you-go course and couldn't get any. Having to go back to the clubhouse he approached a fellow player, tossed him the bag and said, "Mind these till I come back." The custodian of the clubs drew himself up with dignity and said, "I'll have you know I'm major of this town."

Ten To Ace pulled up crippled a bit last week at Stamford Park and won't likely race until Woodbine. Meanwhile it appears almost certain Charlie Smith, who is also at Stamford, will be allowed to finish out the "resent racing season" by the military authorities.

Bruce Cutting, former Newmarket high school athlete now employed in the office at Collis Leather, Aurora, has applied for admittance to the Galt aircraft school and expects to report soon.

Tonight we hope to see you at the big dance and carnival in the Aurora armory sponsored by the Aurora boys' band.

Morley Cook turned in the best pitching performance of the season in the first game of the Aurora town league softball semi-finals as he whiffed ten batters and allowed only seven hits over the nine-inning stretch. Case's Aces are hot favorites for the title and the all-star team in next-time would have been able to go out and capture a provincial rural title.

Jennings brothers, Kerr and Ray Lloyd have added plenty of punch and fielding strength to the team. Cook is reaching the form he flashed in York-Simcoe competition last year.

EVERSLEY MAKES TEST FLIGHT OVER HOME FARM

An airplane kept doing stunts over this corner, swooping pretty low, circling the farm buildings of Clifford Follitt, recently. Of course the correspondent went out to see what the noise was all about feeling sure some pilot was giving an "Hello!"

It was LAC Howard Follitt flying his test flight from Oshawa training camp. This was his elementary flying test. He passed successfully, and is now at Hagersville.

Howard, second son of Clifford Follitt, is a graduate of Aurora high school, where he distinguished himself in athletics, being a runner and jumper, and a captain of the cadets.

SEIZURE BELIEVED
CAUSE OF DROWNING

Twenty-two-year-old John O.
Beddow of Toronto, who had been employed since March on the farm of Thomas Kelley, R. R. 1 Schomberg, was drowned while swimming at Bell's Lake on Friday evening.
Kelley had driven Beddow, his son, Allen, Jack Wood, aged seven, and Ben Parr, 14, to the lake for a swim. He remained in his car reading the paper when he heard Beddow cry for help but by the time he reached the scene Beddow had disappeared beneath the water.
Despite attempts to locate the body it was not recovered until dragging equipment had been brought from Wilcox Lake.
Constable Gus Farquhar of Schomberg, Sgt. Sydney Bar-rough and Constable Ronald Watt of the York County police, and Percy Ash of Oakridge took part in the search. Around 11:30 p.m.
the body was recovered about 50 feet from shore, in 10 feet of water.
Coroner Dr. C. J. Devins performed a post mortem at P. M.
Thompson's undertaking parlors and said he thought Beddow had suffered a seizure. It was the fourth drowning within a week in York county, the largest number ever drowned in a like period.

NORTH GWILLIMBURY
Patronize Dance Hall
To Show Appreciation

The North Gwillimbury Red Cross branch asks that all who have knitting kindly arrange to finish articles as quickly as possible, so that their wool convener may be able to have the asked for quotas shipped at once.
This is important.
The dance, of which all proceeds were donated by Norman Brunt of Riveredge Pavilion to the local branch of the Red Cross, was highly successful, well over $90. being realized.
One child's quilt was bought by Mrs. Lloyd Pollock. Tim Bed-son, purchaser of the second quilt, kindly gave it back to be auctioned again subject to a reserve bid, and was not sold.
It was decided to raise money on it again.
A special appreciation dance was held at Riveredge on Tuesday evening, when the executives of the Red Cross expressed thanks to Mr. Brunt and to Billie Cottonden, with his orchestra, for their kindness to the society during the past summer. The large amount of money received through their efforts was much appreciated.
The branch asks that all who have cottages on the various beaches kindly let it be known that on Monday, Aug. 31, there is to be a salvage collection. This is for the beaches and not for the rest of the township. Please have papers and magazines neatly tied together in bundles and everything placed conveniently for the collectors. The co-operation of all interested is asked.
If anyone is not familiar with details, they may secure the required information from any of the several summer places of business on the beaches or from the convener, George White,
Keswick, or the president, Mrs.
Wm. Vail, Keswick. Anyone who can give real assistance in the collecting of this salvage will be sincerely thanked by the convener.

AN ATHLETES
ATTITUDE TO LIQUOR
"They call me a fanatic. Perhaps I am. But I can't see what harm they have for any such charge," says Fletcher H. Yost, director of intercollegiate athletics, University of Michigan, and one of the best-known men in college athletic circles of the country, in reply to some who have thought him fanatical on the alcohol problem.
"Liquor's no problem to me. I faced it, and made my decision on it when I was a boy in West Virginia. I resolved never to touch the stuff and I never have. Liquor has never been a problem in my family. Not a member of my family ever became a drunkard.
No, I'm not interested in this thing, on account of my own or any of my family. I'm interested in it simply on account of boys.
"I'm interested in boys—all boys.
For their good I want this liquor evil wiped out. Does that make me a fanatic? Why, I can remember so well, as a youngster down there in West Virginia, looking at this thing and stating it up for myself. I saw men going into saloons. I saw them robbed there, robbed mentally, physically, morally and financially. I saw that the liquor business was the only business on earth that wasn't willing to stand up its finished product as an advertisement. Instead, it would take a man, strip him of everything he had and make him a man, take his last nickel, and throw him into the gutter.
"So when I get talking to boys,
I tell them to get a true start in life. It's a long game they have ahead; 50 or 60 years to go. They need the best possible start to win. Liquor will undermine them, rob them, clean them out. That's why I am against it."—White of this sportsman even to think of possibility of one who follows in these footsteps going to ruin and

CHURCH DEDICATION ANSWERS DEMAND

The new Roman Catholic church at Keswick was dedicated on Sunday by Archbishop Mc-Guigan of Toronto and named after beautiful Lake Simcoe, "Our Lady of the Lake."

The building is an imposing structure built by the highway just south of Keswick at the intersection of the old Metropolitan railway, and comes into full view from the south as one crosses the Jersey River.

The credit for the organization and building of this church belongs to Dr. W. D. Muckle of Newmarket. He pitched a tent in a local field five years ago and held services there until the demand became so great, that, with the help of the summer visitors from Toronto, and those from the surrounding community, the building of the new church was undertaken about two months ago.

In his opening remarks, Dr. Muckle thanked the friends from Toronto and the community for their generous financial assistance toward the building fund, the architect for the plans and specifications and "Jimmie" Clark, the local contractor, who had all contributed to the building of such a beautiful church.

The services last Sunday were largely attended and many were there from Toronto, Newmarket and other places, and it was fully expected that the collection would easily wipe out the small balance standing against the building.

Two Act Play

ACT I

Scene: Main St., a grocery store.

Time: 10 a.m.

Housewife: Please give me ten pounds of flour.

Grocer: Thank you, Mrs. Smith. (The grocer goes to a barrel and puts several scoops of flour into a bag and turns to the customer.)

Grocer: Shall we call it ten pounds?

Housewife: No, certainly not. Put it on the scales and weigh it.

Grocer: Of course, Mrs. Smith. I wouldn't think of doing otherwise, but I wanted to draw your attention to the fine accurate scales which I have installed. These scales are expensive equipment, but they are part of the service which we give you. They are for your protection. When you ask for ten pounds of flour you know that you get it.

ACT II

Scene: Main St., a grocery store.

Time: 2:30 p.m.

Grocer: (to representative of local weekly newspaper in which he is buying advertising space): How much circulation have you?

Advertising salesman: Shall we say 2,500?

Grocer: Certainly not. Put your newspaper on the scales and weigh it. Travellers tell me that my local newspaper should belong to the Audit Bureau of Circulations, that I am entitled to know the exact weight of what I am buying. I want to know how many newspapers you print, how many are paid for, how many are free distribution, and how many of the paid copies are distributed in the area served by my store.

Advertising salesman: You are quite right. I just wanted to call your attention to the fine service which we offer you. It costs us money to belong to the Audit Bureau of Circulations and to keep the records which the Bureau requires. It is your right to know how many homes your message goes into, and how anxious those homes are to receive our newspaper and your message, as indicated by their subscription payments made in advance or their cash purchase of single copies.

Grocer: Your Audit Bureau of Circulations is just like my scales.

Advertising salesman: Exactly. Here is a copy of our latest Audit Bureau of Circulations report. You are entitled to this information. It tells you what you are buying when you buy space in our newspaper.

DOCTOR THINKS FAIRY LAKE MUST BE LOVELY

"It was a very pleasant surprise for me today when I received a grand parcel of cigarettes from your association," writes Tpr. K. G. Munro, in a card received by the Newmarket Veterans' association. "I can hardly find words to describe my appreciation and gratefulness. They were sorely needed and will provide me with many an hour of enjoyment. Thank you ever so much for the wonderful way you treat the Newmarket boys."

"Please extend my sincerest thanks to your organization for their donation of cigarettes which have just arrived," writes Capt. Gordon Cook. "It is astonishing just how many of their parcels do come through. I guess Britannia still rules the waves."

"We are having marvellous summer weather, with mosquito-free evenings. The country is simply beautiful and I had almost come to the conclusion that it had it all over Canada until I saw a news review with Canadian scenes. Just about then I decided that Fairy Lake would look better than these gardens."

"I hope to get up to Scotland the end of next week for leave—my first visit. Then after I come back we are going on manoeuvres in Wales. Maybe it won't be long before we can

"SOMETHING NEW" IN HAND WRITES "ROYAL"

"Just a few lines of appreciation of your kind donation of 300 cigarettes," writes Cpl. Percy Myers in a letter received by the Newmarket Boy Scouts Association. "It is a very great pleasure to receive the same. Smokes are the most important item in a soldier's daily menu and, through people like you, we are able to have plenty. I'm sure that all the boys over here appreciate them every bit as much as I do and we couldn't begin to thank you all enough for what you are doing. Best of luck to you and thanks a million."

"Received the cigarettes the other day, and many, many thanks," writes Sgt. Fred Evans of the Royal Regiment which has since distinguished itself at Winter on the Riviera. I am enjoying Al health in spite of all the cigarettes. What a happy way to stay in shape."

Dieppe. "They couldn't have been better timed either. It is indeed thoughtful of you all and no gift is more appreciated over here, believe me."

"I sincerely trust everything is running smoothly back there and here's wishing you all continued success in your good work. We have had a very nice summer over here, as far as summers go, and really have done an enormous amount of valuable training. Something new and real interesting. Sorry I can't tell you all about it."

"I've seen a few more of the home town lads lately. Some who haven't been over very long and everyone seems to be quite well."

Cards of appreciation were received from C.Q.M.S. Gordon Thompson, Tpr. C. W. Hoover, Cpl. Jas. White, Sgt. A. Lindbaum, Cpl. J. F. Withrow, Bdsman. G. T. Blencowe, Pte. J. R. Blencowe, Rfn. Earl Cole, and Cpl. T. H. Smith.
